Thursday, February 5
5:30 p.m.
Whitney Humanities Center 208
Reception to follow

“Liturgy, History, and Cluniac Identity in Paris, BnF ms. latin 17716”
SUSAN BOYNTON
Professor of Historical Musicology, Columbia University

Thursday, February 19
5:30 p.m.
Hall of Graduate Studies 211
Reception to follow

“Who is Buried in Early Anglo-Saxon Cemeteries?”
ROBIN FLEMING
Professor of History, Boston College

Thursday, April 9
5:00 p.m.
Beinecke Rare Book and Manuscript Library

Encounters with the Beinecke Medieval and Renaissance Collections
A Panel of Yale Graduate Students

Thursday, April 23
5:30 p.m.
Hall of Graduate Studies 211
Reception to follow

“Crusade, Conquest, and Conversion in the Medieval Iberian Romance (1250-1550)”
DAVID WACKS
Associate Professor of Spanish, University of Oregon

De Levis Hours
French, c. 1400–1425
Beinecke MS 400, f.130r
Beinecke Rare Book and Manuscript Library

The Yale Lectures in Medieval Studies are generously supported by the Program in Medieval Studies, the Office of the Secretary and Vice President for Student Life, the Trumbull Lectureship, the Institute of Sacred Music, the Yale Divinity School, the Beinecke Rare Book and Manuscript Library, the Department of History, the Department of English, the Department of French, the Department of Spanish and Portuguese, the European Studies Council, the Whitney Humanities Center, the Judaic Studies Program, YISAP, the Latin American and Iberian Studies Council, the Council on Middle East Studies, and the Program in Renaissance Studies.

www.yale.edu/medieval/lectures