

Elsa Filosa
Assistant Professor Italian
Vanderbilt University

“A letter on Consolation: Innocence and Politics”

Elsa Filosa holds a Ph.D. in Romance Languages from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and a Laurea in Modern Philology from the Università degli Studi di Milano. Her research focuses on Fourteenth century Italian Literature, with particular emphasis on Boccaccio. She published a book (Tre Studi sul De mulieribus claris. Milan: LED Edizioni Universitarie, 2012), several articles on American and Italian journals, and co-edited the proceedings of the ABA Conference of 2010 and 2013. She has been for two mandates the Secretary of the American Boccaccio Association.

Thursday, March 1, 2018

5.30 p.m.

Whitney Humanities Center, Room 208
53 Wall Street

Sponsored by The Edward J. and Dorothy Clarke Kempf Fund at Yale University and Whitney Humanities Center

Refreshments will be served