

YALE | FINZI-CONTINI LECTURE 2025

Using the life and work of the neglected Norwegian painter Anna-Eva Bergman, the lecture examines the problem of justice in the context of female creativity.

FEBRUARY 13, 2025 | 4:30 PM

HUMANITIES QUADRANGLE HQ L02

Images: Courtesy of Nasjonalmuseet/Børre Høstland and Siemon Scamell-Katz

INTO THE LIGHT

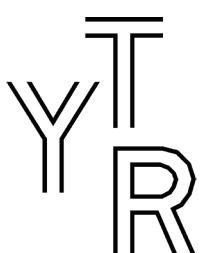

A WOMAN ARTIST UNCOVERED

RACHEL CUSK

Rachel Cusk is the author of Second Place, the Outline trilogy, the memoirs A Life's Work and Aftermath, and several other works of fiction and nonfiction, including her most recent novel, Parade. She is a Guggenheim Fellow. She lives in Paris.

WHITNEY
HUMANITIES
CENTER

The Finzi-Contini lectureship was endowed in 1990 by the Honorable Guido Calabresi, Judge in the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, and Dr. Paul Calabresi, in memory of their mother, Bianca Maria Finzi-Contini Calabresi, a scholar of European literature and Professor of Italian at Albertus Magnus College.

Cosponsored by Whitney Humanities Center and The Yale Review.

