

THE FRANKE LECTURES IN THE HUMANITIES • FALL 2023

IMAGINING GLOBAL LYRIC

A four-part lecture series, “Imagining Global Lyric,” featuring four poets discussing lyric across cultures, languages, and media.

SEPTEMBER 19

SRIKANTH “CHICU” REDDY

“Our first language was English as a Second Language”: A Poetry Reading and Talk on Exophony

OCTOBER 24

MARILYN HACKER

The Subaltern Sonnet: A Canonical Form Centers Unauthorized Voices

NOVEMBER 1

ROBIN COSTE LEWIS

To the Realization of Perfect Helplessness

DECEMBER 5

LINDA GREGERSON

Lyric Poetry in an Era of Social Division

ALL LECTURES AT 4:30 PM

HUMANITIES QUADRANGLE | HQ 136

Yale

WHITNEY
HUMANITIES
CENTER

The Franke Lectures in the Humanities are made possible by the generosity of Richard and Barbara Franke, and are intended to present important topics in the Humanities to a wide and general audience.

