

why the mode of EXCHANGE?

Kojin Karatani on Capital and Power

Public lecture, November 6, 2019

Whitney Humanities Center, room 208

Presented by the Yale Critical Theory Initiative

Kojin Karatani's many books include Origins of Modern Japanese Literature, Transcritique: On Kant and Marx, Architecture as Metaphor, The Structure of World History, and Isonomia and the Origins of Philosophy. At Yale, he will present new work on world capitalism.

The Yale Critical Theory Initiative sponsors lectures, an intensive seminar series, and associated working groups on campus every semester. Visit campuspress.yale.edu/criticaltheory for more information. The Initiative is supported by the Edward J. and Dorothy Clarke Kempf Memorial Fund and by the Department of Germanic Languages and Literatures.