

THE 2022 TANNER LECTURE

ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE AND HUMAN VALUES

Fei-Fei Li

Fei-Fei Li is the Sequoia Professor of Computer Science at Stanford University and Denning Family Co-Director of the Stanford Institute for Human-Centered AI (HAI).

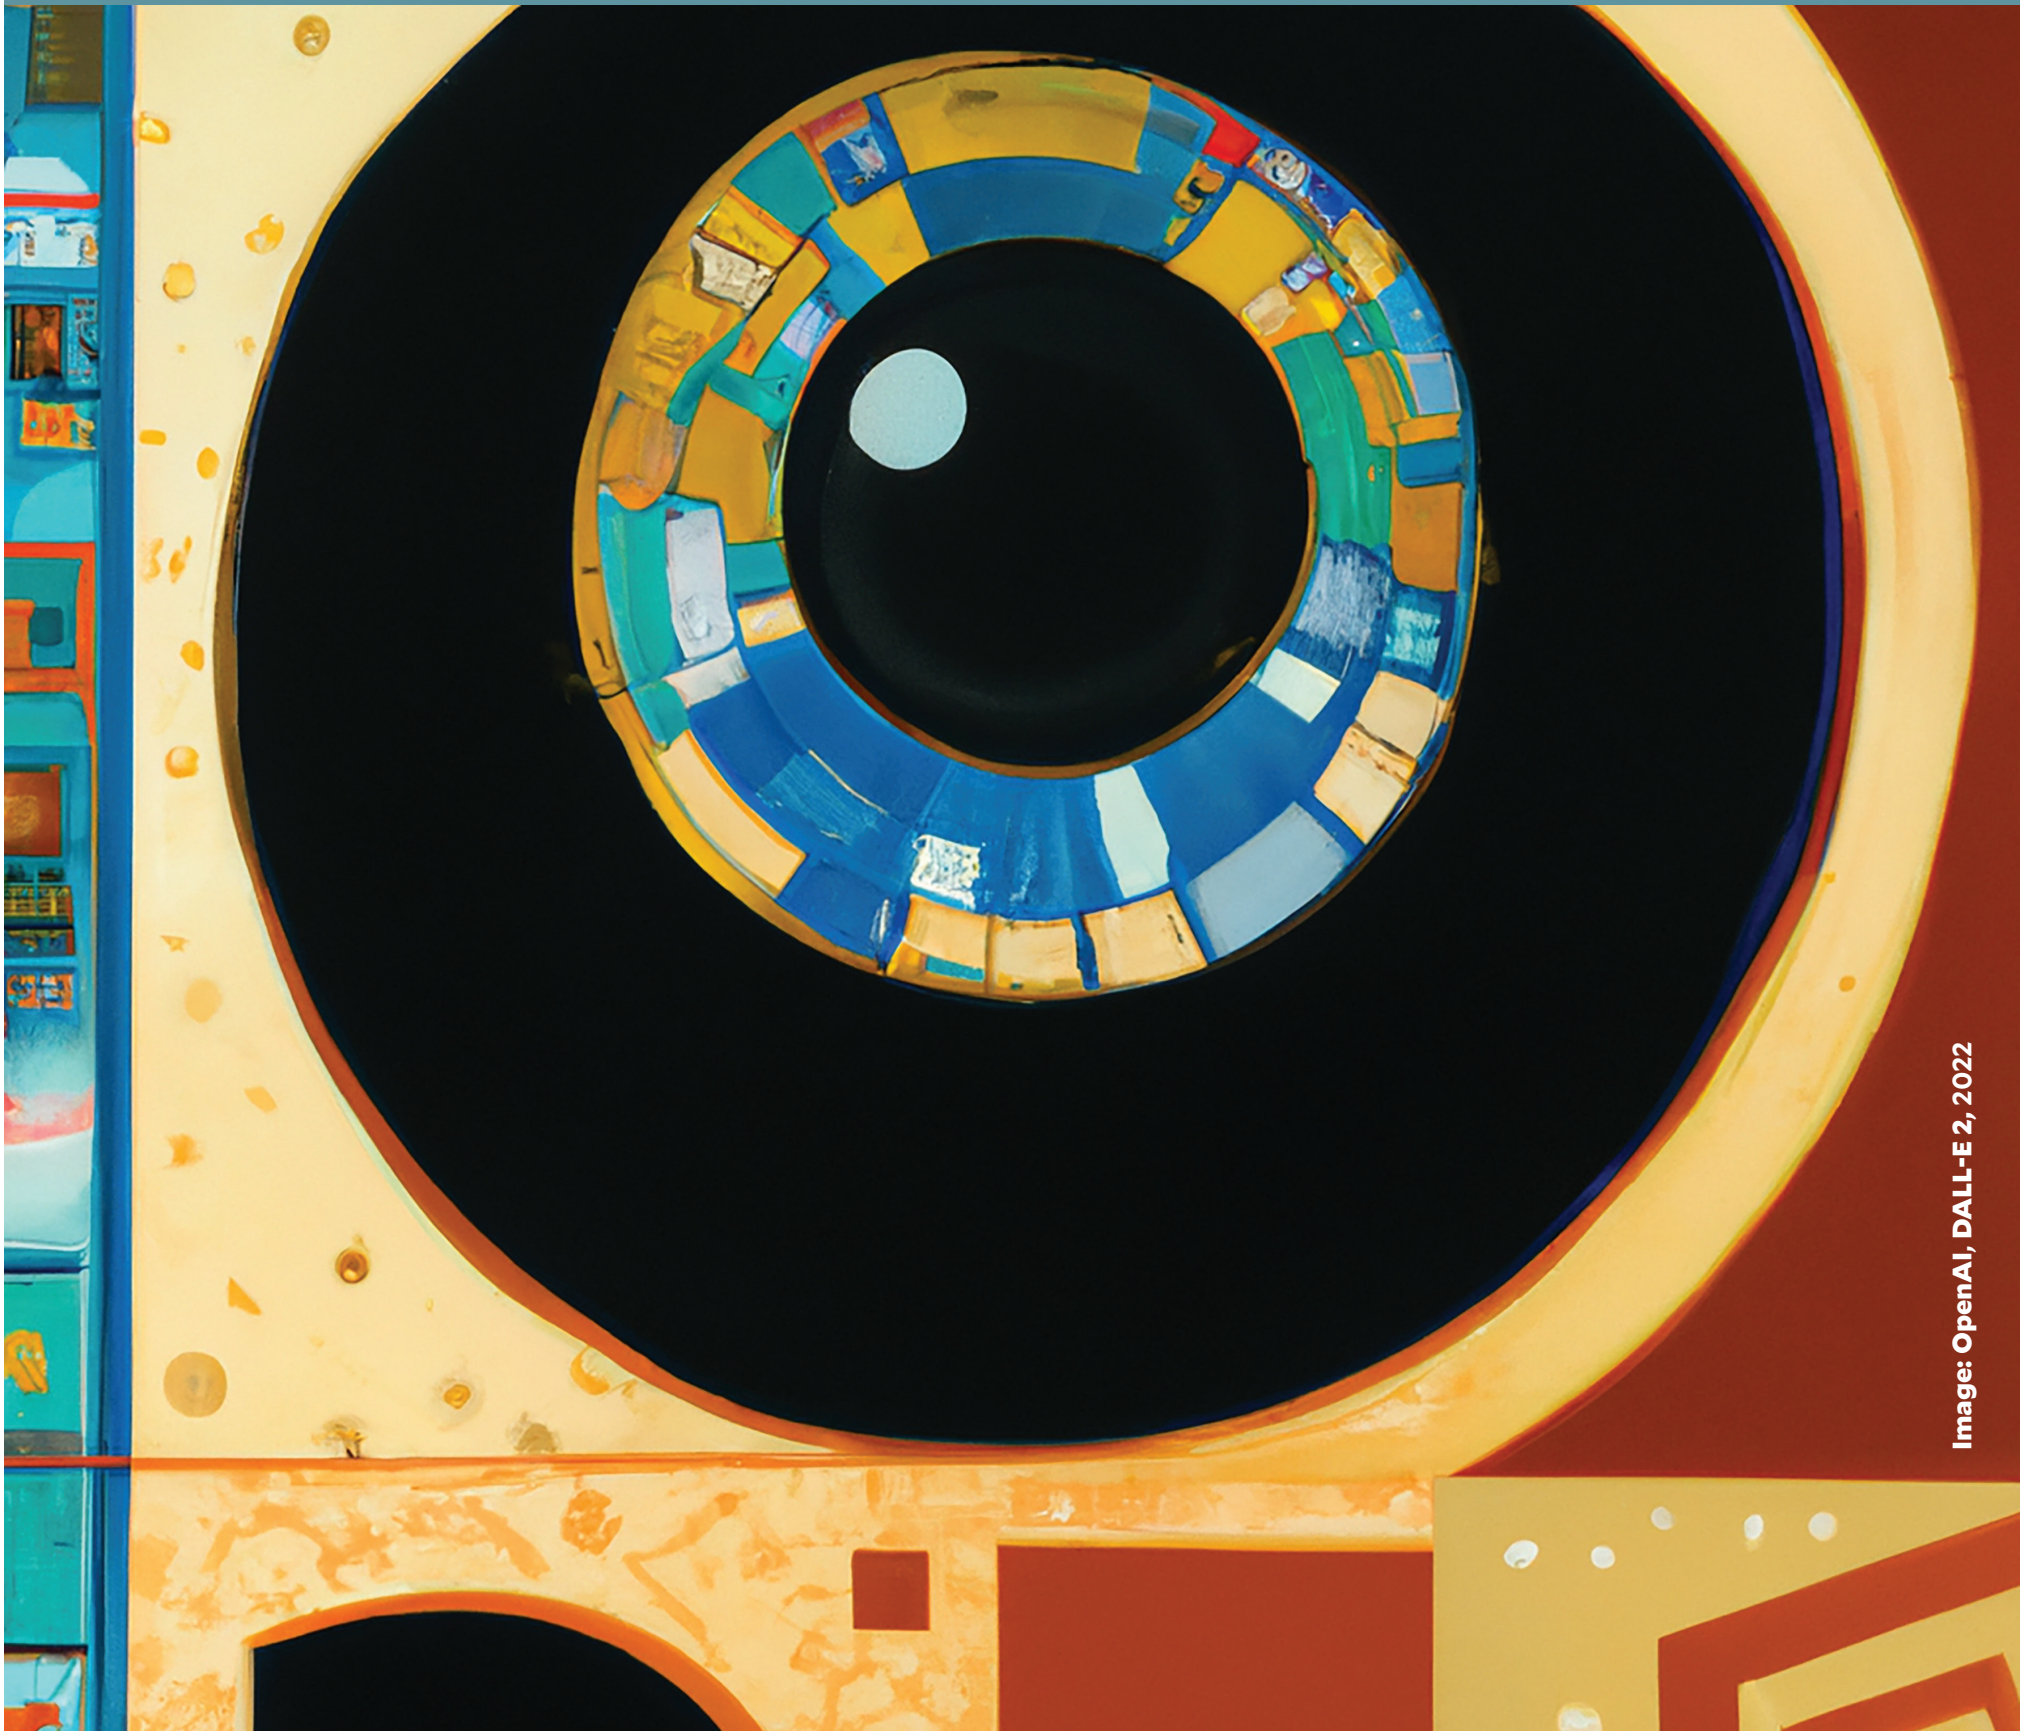

Image: OpenAI, DALL-E 2, 2022

WHAT WE SEE AND WHAT WE VALUE

AI WITH A HUMAN PERSPECTIVE

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 26, 2022 | 5:00 PM | 320 YORK ST.
HUMANITIES QUADRANGLE | HQ L02 (LOWER-LEVEL LECTURE HALL)

Yale

WHITNEY
HUMANITIES CENTER

The Tanner Lectures on Human Values seek to advance and reflect upon the scholarly and scientific learning relating to human values. The Tanner Lectures are funded by an endowment received by the University of Utah from Obert Clark Tanner and Grace Adams Tanner. The lectures, which are permanently sponsored at nine institutions, including Yale, are free and open to the public.

